SUBJECT: Texas Vaccines for Children (TVFC) Program: Vaccine Distributor Location Change to Sacramento; New Shipping Label

In September 2007, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) distribution contractor, McKesson Biosciences, began shipping the Texas Vaccines for Children (TVFC) vaccines from its site in Memphis, Tennessee. Effective April 21, 2008, CDC plans to transition the distribution of Texas vaccines to the Sacramento, California location.

This change should have very little impact on TVFC providers. Providers will see the Sacramento address instead of the Memphis address at the top of the packing list and on the shipping label. UPS and Federal Express will continue to be the couriers of vaccine shipments, but once the transition to Sacramento begins, the courier may change (e.g. UPS rather than FedEx, or vice versa).

Also, effective immediately, all shipments will include a new packing list that will replace the current packing list. Attached for your reference, is a copy of a sample packing list with guidance on how to interpret each field. McKesson will also include a copy of the attached sample in the shipments for the next three months.

The new packing list should make identifying multiple-box shipments easier to recognize since it will state how many boxes were used to fill the order and which doses should be inside each labeled container. In most cases, orders are filled in a single box. However, if the order is filled in more than one box, but all the boxes do not arrive together, please contact your Local Health Department (LHD) or Health Service Region (HSR) representative immediately. The additional packages will be tracked and then you will be informed when to expect the remainder of the shipment.

If you have other questions regarding this information, please call your Health Service Region, Local Health Department, or TVFC Consultant.
