The Driskill Hotel
604 Brazos Street

Built in 1886 by Confederate Colonel and cattle baron Jesse Driskill, Governors William P. Hobby, Miriam (Ma) Ferguson, Dan Moody, John Connally, and Ann Richards staged inaugural balls at The Driskill. LBJ's and Lady Bird's 1st date was for breakfast in the dining room; they spent election nights waiting for results of senatorial and presidential elections.
