Quick Reference Guide
for Audiologists

TEHDI
Texas Early Hearing Detection and Intervention

1 REPORT RESULTS

Report test results for each child within 24 hours of screening and after initial diagnostic testing (normal or diagnosis) one of two ways:

- Record test results online in OZ eSP (tehdi.com) or
- Fill out form and fax to OZ Systems 817-385-3939

Note: Please include birth name, current name, Medicaid #, DOB, gender, mother's maiden name, current contact information, and second point of contact on all entries so records can be matched.

2 REFER TO ECI

Refer to ECI within 7 days when:

- Baby did not pass outpatient re-screen
- Baby diagnosed hard of hearing or deaf

Note: Please include birth name, current name, mother's maiden name, current contact information, and second point of contact on all entries. This enables proper matching of records. Referrals should be reported directly through the OZ eSP TEHDI site (tehdi.com) or by fax/phone (817-385-3939). Local program contacts can be found at www.dars.state.tx.us/ecis/searchprogram.asp.

Download the referral form:
txpeds.org/sites/txpeds.org/files/documents/ECI-Referral-Form.pdf

For babies and children diagnosed hard of hearing or deaf, resources are listed on the back.

TEXAS Department of State Health Services

Quick Reference Guide
for Audiologists

TEHDI
Texas Early Hearing Detection and Intervention

3 OFFER SUPPORT THROUGH RESOURCES

Early Childhood Intervention (ECI) is a statewide program administered by the Texas Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services for families and children (ages birth-3) with disabilities and developmental delays. ECI supports families to help their children reach their potential through developmental services provided by a variety of local agencies and organizations across Texas. ECI works with the child and family in their natural environment, such as at home, a grandparent's house, or a child care center. Website: dars.state.tx.us/ecis

The Educational Resource Center on Deafness (ERCOD) is a program of the Texas School for the Deaf that provides statewide outreach services to support deaf and hard of hearing students (ages birth-21), their families, and the professionals who serve them. ERCOD believes that informed parents and professionals are a child's best resource and provides information about the full range of communication and education placement opportunities. Website: texasdhhresources.org

Honoring Parental Empowerment (HoPE) Parent Partnership Program℠ assists parents in the early stages of their family's journey and provides family-to-family support. Parent Partners are available to help families understand their child's diagnosis and support them in accessing the services needed to promote their child's development. Website: txehdi.org

Texas Early Hearing Detection and Intervention (TEHDI) is a program administered by the Texas Department of State Health Services that works to ensure that newborns or young children are identified early and provided appropriate intervention services needed to prevent delays in communication and cognitive skill development. TEHDI's website offers resources and continuum-of-care information to parents and health-care providers. Website: dshs.state.tx.us/tehdi

Texas Hands & Voices™ offers support through face-to-face meetings, video/phone calls, resource sharing, a website and Facebook page, parent and professional training, newsletters, events, and workshops. Their Guide By Your Side™ program offers unbiased support through parent-to-parent help, workshops, and referrals. Enrolling is confidential and free. Website: txhandsandvoices.org

The above images are Quick Response (QR) codes which can automatically connect you to each website using your mobile device without having to type the web address. You may need to download a QR code reader to your device prior to first use.

#1-334_11/2014

TEXAS Department of State Health Services