Here are some of the newest selections in this collection.

The Baby Bonding Book: Connecting With Your Newborn

Book or eBook. Joanna Parga-Belinkie, 2025. (HQ755.84 .P37 2025 ECI)

This book encourages parents to tune out the noise and focus on what is important - building a deep and intentional bond with the remarkable little person joining your family. The connection between parent and newborn shapes their biochemistry - the bedrock of the person.

Baby Leads the Way: An Evidence-Based Guide to Introducing Solid Foods

Book or eBook. Julie Laux, 2025. (RJ216 .B33 2025 ECI)

Introducing solids to your baby is a big milestone. This book was written to help parents who want to know the latest, evidence-based recommendations and best practices when it comes to complementary feeding. This approach emphasizes cooking nutritious family-style meals, so baby is eating a modified version of what you're eating from day one. Your baby will learn to feed themselves in a safe, low-pressure environment to establish a lasting, healthy relationship with food.

Prevent Teach Reinforce for Young Children: The Early Childhood Model of Individualized Positive Behavior Support

Book or eBook. Glen Dunlap, 2022. (LB 1139 S6 P74 2022 ECI)

This guidebook introduces the five steps of the PTR-YC model: 1) teaming and goal setting; 2) data collection; 3) functional behavioral assessment; 4) development and implementation of a behavior intervention plan; and 5) using data, arranging for generalization, and next steps. It gives instructions for conducting all five steps, case examples from real-world experience, and the tools and assessment instruments needed to implement the steps effectively.
