

School Health Advisory Council Self-Assessment

Original publication: September 13, 2010
Revised by Texas School Health Advisory Council: February 2023

Background:

In 2005, the 79th Legislature adopted Texas Health and Safety Code Section 1001.0711. This section directed the Executive Commissioner of the Health and Human Services Commission to establish the Texas Health Advisory Committee (TSHAC) by rule. The purpose of TSHAC is to provide a leadership role for the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) in the support for and delivery of coordinated school health programs and school health services. In 2007, the 80th Legislature expanded TSHAC's responsibilities to assess the effectiveness and develop recommendations for coordinated health programs provided by schools. Texas Administrative Code, RULE §37.350 lists the rules and responsibilities of TSHAC.

The SHAC Self-Assessment Tool was developed by TSHAC to support continuing growth of district SHACs. It is important for a SHAC to assess how well it works. To assist SHACs in their self-assessment, TSHAC created the SHAC Self-Assessment tool with questions to help evaluate how well the SHAC is functioning. Questions are divided into four categories:

- 1) Organization of SHAC
- 2) Goals and Activities
- 3) SHAC Members Knowledge and Awareness
- 4) SHAC Support

The SHAC Self-Assessment is intended to be a helpful tool and resource for SHACs, the self-assessment is not required for SHACs to conduct. However, TSHAC encourages SHACs to conduct periodic self-assessments to assess whether the SHAC is meeting objectives, how objectives will be accomplished, and if objectives meet the target date.

SHACs are encouraged to include the results of the self-assessment in their annual report to the school board.
